In 2015, among the 9 movies nominated for Best Foreign Language Film, three in the Academy's shortlist were directed by post-Soviet artists. Russia's "Leviathan" won the Golden Globe award (2015).

This course will provide an overview of the most significant trends in the development of Russian cinema from the 1960s to today's latest blockbusters.

Students will even direct a very short film of their own!

Prof. Yuri Leving
