

Does Someone in Your Family Have Advanced Cancer?

Would You Like to Talk About Health Care Planning Needs and Preferences for Your Family Member?

If your answer is yes to the above questions you may be interested in taking part in our study.

We are looking to interview family members of patients with advanced cancer. We would like to talk to you about your views on the best ways to talk with healthcare teams about your family member's needs and preferences for his or her future health care.

Participation in this study would involve a one interview (1 hour) with a researcher from the Nova Scotia Health Authority, either in person or over the phone.
